Please read this notice carefully as it explains how we collect and use your personal information.

You can ask for further information about our use of your personal information or complain about its use, by contacting our Data Protection Officer Michael Rushe at:

2. What information do we collect and where do we get it from?

In order for us to provide our services to you and to manage those services we will ask you to share your personal information with us. The circumstances in which we use your information, the reasons why we ask for it and details of how we will use it are explained in section 3 of this notice. The information we collect about you varies depending on your particular circumstances and requirements and may include, for example:

- general information about you such as your name, address, contact details and date of birth;
- information about what and/or who you want to insure, such as vehicle details and named drivers, your home, travel details and companions, commercial details;
- your claims and credit history;
- financial details, such as bank account and card details;
- sensitive personal information, such as your health and criminal convictions;
- information about your use of our website such as your IP address, which is a unique number identifying your computer.

We may collect personal information from the following sources:

- you or someone connected to you as part of a quotation or claim;
- publically available sources of information, such as social media and networking sites;
- third party databases made available to the insurance industry as well as databases where you have given your permission to share information with a third party like us. For more information about these sources, please contact the Data Protection Officer using the details set out in section 1 of this notice;

If you have provided information to us about someone else, you would have confirmed that you have the consent of these individuals to share their personal information with us. You should share this privacy notice with all individuals whose personal information you have shared with us as it may also apply to them.

3. Why do we collect this information and how will we use it?

We may collect and use your personal information under the following circumstances or for the following reasons:

a) To provide you services relating to an insurance quotation and/or insurance policy such as:

- assessing your insurance application and arranging your insurance policy, checking databases showing no claims discount entitlement and driving licence records;
- managing your insurance policy including claims handling and issuing policy documentation to you;
- providing you with the services described in your policy documents.

The collection and use of information such as your name, address, date of birth, claims history, what/who you would like to insure, medical conditions for travel insurance and conviction details for motor insurance is necessary to provide you with a quotation and/or policy. Without this information, we will be unable to assess your application and/or provide claims services. Our assessment of your insurance application may involve an automated decision to determine whether we are able to provide a quotation and/or the price. The decisions involve the use of insurer systems and are dependent on the information you provide us (for example: post code, vehicle type and conviction details for motor insurance, health details for travel insurance and/or type of property for home/commercial insurance) to produce a result as to whether we are able to provide a quotation and/or what the relevant price for your policy should be. If you object to an automated decision that is required to determine your insurance premium then we will be unable to provide you with an insurance quotation or renewal.

b) Where we have a justifiable reason, such as:

- keeping records about you and our correspondence with you as well as your current and past insurance policies and history of insurance claims. This is so that we can appropriately and effectively manage our relationship with you as well as satisfy any legal and regulatory obligations we may have to keep such records.
- preventing and detecting fraud, financial crime and anti money-laundering. We may use your personal information to prevent fraud and in doing so may:
 - collect personal information about you from databases as described in this notice and from publically available sources (such as social media and networking sites);
 - share your personal information with fraud prevention agencies. Your personal information will be checked with and recorded by a fraud prevention agency. If false or inaccurate information is provided and fraud is identified, details will be passed to the fraud prevention agency. This information will be accessed and used by us, law enforcement agencies and other organisations to prevent fraud and money laundering, for example: when checking details on applications for credit and credit related or other facilities; managing credit and credit related accounts or facilities; recording debt; checking details on proposals and claims for all types of insurance; and checking details of job applicants and employees. Other organisations may search the databases held by these fraud prevention agencies when you make an application to them for financial products. If such companies suspect fraud, we will share your personal information with them. The information we share may be used by those companies when making decisions about you. We and other organisations may access and use, from other countries, the information recorded by fraud prevention agencies;
 - share your personal information with operators or registers available to the insurance industry to check information you provide. These include the Claims and Underwriting Exchange Register and Motor Insurance Anti-Fraud and Theft Register. We may pass information relating to your insurance policy and any incident to the operators of these registers, their agents and suppliers;
 - (for Motor Insurance only) share it with the Motor Insurance Database (MID) which may be used to establish whether a driver is insured to drive a vehicle and/or for preventing or detecting crime. If you are involved in an accident in the UK or abroad, the MID may be searched to obtain relevant policy information. You can find out more at www.mib.org.uk;
 - use any personal information obtained about you, or anyone you have provided us information about, to carry out the above profiling activity as part of our investigations into fraudulent behaviour. Should fraud be identified as a result of such profiling activity, this could result in the rejection of an application for insurance, a claim and/or voidance of your policy.

- using information collected from databases we use together with the personal information you give us, to help us to improve and develop our internal databases and systems in order to improve the products and services we offer. For more information about how we communicate our products and services, please refer to section 4 of this notice.

- We may also use CCTV recording equipment in and around our premises for monitoring and security purposes.

c) You have given us your permission:

- to use your sensitive personal information in order to provide you with a quotation, price and/or the services set out in your policy documents for example: handling claims or for making reasonable adjustments as a result of a disability you have told us about or your religious beliefs. Where you have provided sensitive personal information about someone connected to you, for example named drivers, you would have confirmed that you have their permission to share this information with us;
